

SINGAPORE MEDIATION CENTRE'S SERVICES DURING THE COVID-19
'CIRCUIT-BREAKER'

Last Friday, the Government announced stricter measures to further contain the Covid-19 outbreak in Singapore. SMC's services will be affected by these measures.

While some of this may cause inconvenience, we seek your understanding as they are necessary steps to ensure your safety and that of our staff.

Adjudication under the Security of Payment Act

Services remained unchanged. Parties may continue to file their applications at the SMC counter at 1 Supreme Court Lane, Level 4, Singapore 178879. The counter's operating hours remain unchanged (9am to 4.30pm, Monday to Friday).

Mediation

SMC remains open for filing of mediation cases only. This is to be done online. Mediation sessions will not take place until the Government-mandated circuit breaker period is over.

Training

No face to face training will be conducted until further notice. Online trainings and seminars will carry on.

Please contact enquiries@mediation.com.sg for more information.

Should you visit our counter for services, please comply with the safe distancing measures put in place. We also seek your patience, as we seek to fulfil our standard of service with reduced staff numbers. We will continue to keep you updated on changes so please look out for our notices via email and on our social media channels.

Until we meet again, please stay safe and healthy.
