Week 1 of Digital IBEW 2020 opened with a clear message for the built environment sector – to emerge stronger from COVID-19, companies must focus on driving innovation and doing things differently. Now, more so than ever, digitalisation will play an important role in changing business processes, improving productivity and enhancing customer engagement and experience.

Mr Desmond Lee, Minister for National Development and Minister-in-charge of Social Services Integration

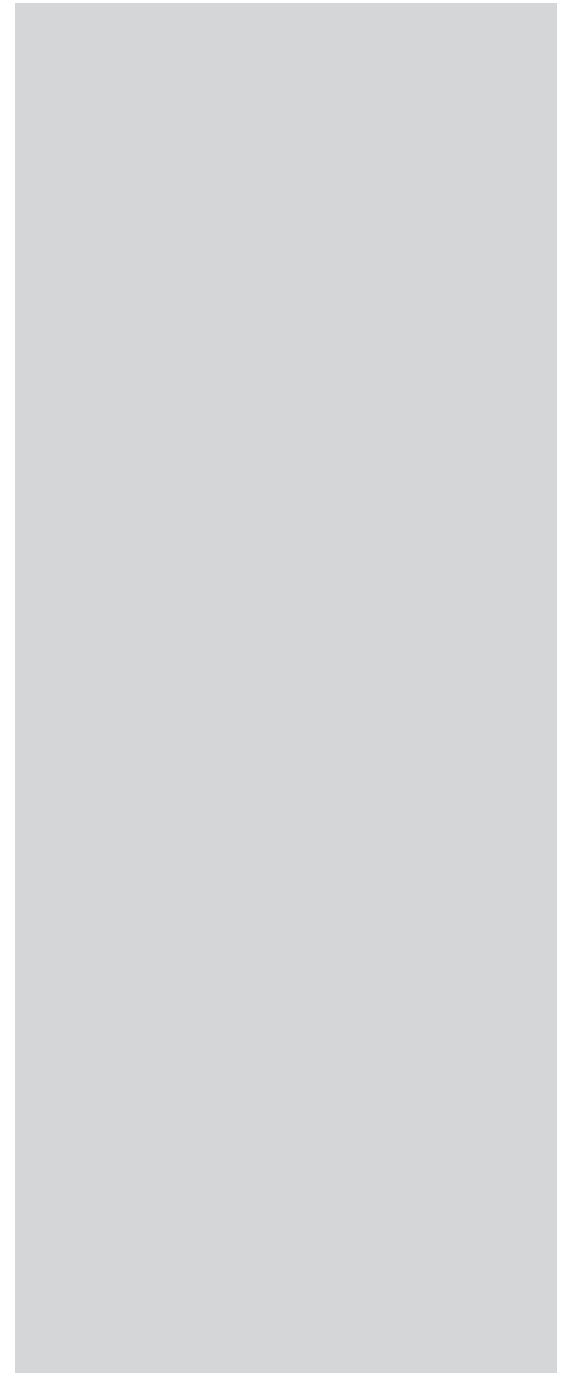

Opening of IBEW 2020

Mr Desmond Lee, Minister for National Development and Minister-in-charge of Social Services Integration spoke about the Advanced Digital Solutions scheme for the built environment sector. He also announced the Intelligent National Productivity and Quality Specifications (iNPQS), a cloud-based system containing templates of project specifications for the industry.

Spotlight Plenary: Emerging Stronger through Innovation

Industry experts and business leaders spoke about the impact of COVID-19 on the built environment sector and how businesses could address these challenges by being nimble and leveraging technology to build resilience.

BEAMP Demo Day

Some 14 companies pitched their innovations at BEAMP Demo Day. These sessions also provided an opportunity for like-minded professionals and innovators to come together to exchange ideas and experiences, widen networks and establish synergistic collaborations.

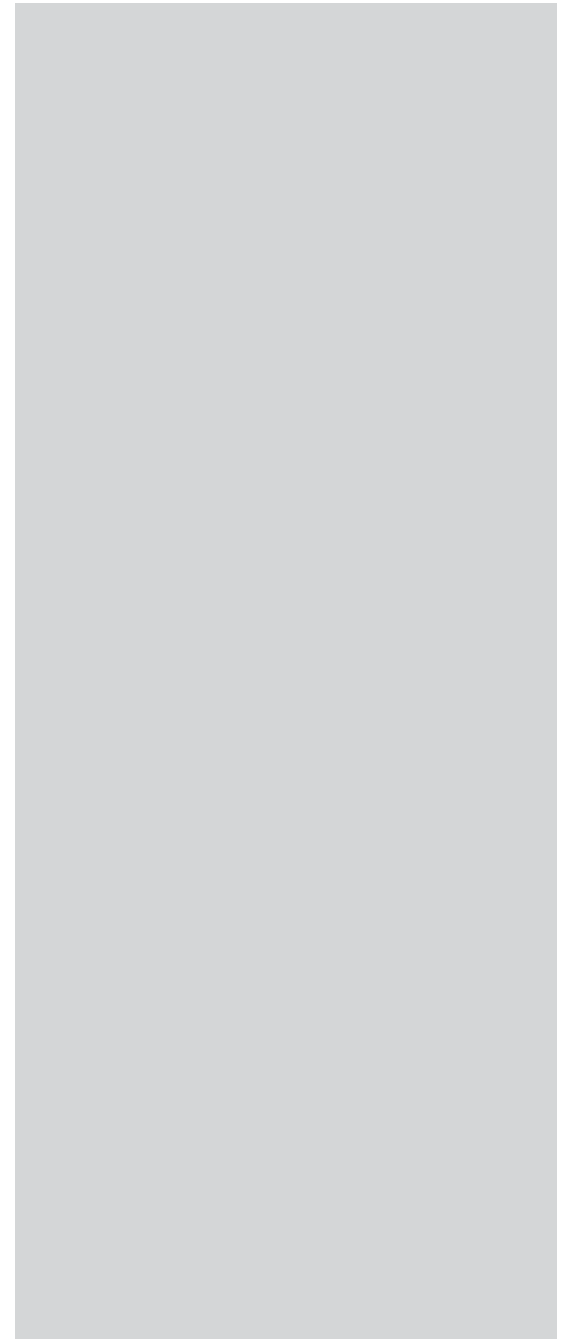

Regional Real Estate Developers' Association Plenary

Real estate industry stalwarts of the region came together to share the new paradigm of real estate and infrastructure development, challenges and practical solutions in the post-COVID era.
