SGBC Webinar: Stay Connected

Increasing your IQ in IAQ

Tuesday, 13 October 2020
3:00PM - 4:00PM (SGT)

SIEMENS
Ingenuity for life.

Do you know that the Environmental Protection Agency has consistently ranked indoor air pollution as one of the most concerning environmental dangers we all face daily?

Ventilation is an important aspect for the design of buildings, embraced to prevent the spread of airborne disease.

Indoor air pollutants are detrimental to the buildings' occupants' performance, affects the potential of a buildings' energy efficiency, and has wide reaching implications on business performance as seen by the recent pandemic.

In this SGBC Webinar supported by Education Partner Siemens, find out how implementing a pandemic-proof Indoor Air Quality system can assist with business continuity and help achieve cost savings.
