Synopsis:

Double click on key emerging technologies such as Artificial Intelligence, Augmented/Virtual Reality and Blockchain which will be transforming the world in the coming years.

This webinar serves to demystify these technologies for the layman, supplemented with real world examples of how these are being used in digital transformations by forward looking enterprises.

At the end of the session, participants will have an understanding of what these technologies are and hear some use cases of how they are being applied in the industry.

Speaker's Profile:

Shumit Gupta is an experienced I.T practitioner who has most recently served as an Associate Director with Accenture's Technology practice, based out of Singapore.

He brings 20 years' experience in the technology sector, specialising in large-scale transformation programmes for telecommunications clients.

He had also previously led Accenture's Liquid Studios for 2 years, a platform for incubating experimental and emerging technologies space with a strong focus on concept development through high fidelity prototypes in the space of Artificial Intelligence, Immersive Reality and Blockchain.

As a passionate public speaker, Shumit has curated and delivered content for technology masterclasses to a variety of professional organizations in Singapore and sits on the executive committee for the Tech Talent AssemBly (TTAB) since 2018.
