

Innovating for Sustainability

Wednesday, 13 January 2021 | 6:00PM (SGT)

Do you have an idea that can revolutionise the built environment or change the way we live, work and play in buildings?

SGBC Founding Member Capitaland is calling for proposals across the globe for the inaugural Capitaland Sustainability X Challenge to make buildings more climate-resilient, resource-efficient, healthier and safer. Outstanding ideas stand a chance to win the exclusive opportunity to pilot and implement innovations at Capitaland's global network of properties across more than 220 cities in over 30 countries, a mentorship with leaders from Capitaland and the industry as well as secure up to $50,000 in project funding.

To help applicants better understand the Challenge details, SGBC is organising an information session with Capitaland on 13 January 2021. Capitaland's Chief Sustainability Officer, Ms Lynette Leong will highlight the key challenge mechanics, outline the challenge statements and answer all your questions.

If you have a groundbreaking idea or innovative solution that can help the built environment be part of the solution to climate change, the Capitaland Sustainability X Challenge can help kickstart its development.

All innovators are welcome. Register for the information session here.
