SGBC Webinar: Stay Connected

Securing Health & Wellbeing: A New Era of Building Design & Operation

10 & 23 February 2021

SGBC Webinar: Stay Connected
Securing Health & Wellbeing:
A New Era of Building
Design & Operation

10 & 23 February 2021

The built environment is the first line of defence in safeguarding human health and wellbeing. With greener, healthier buildings designed and operated in line with contemporary guidelines and standards, ease of mind can be assured when living, working and playing in the new normal.

This February, sign up for 2 webinars themed around built environment health and wellbeing organised by SGBC in collaboration with SGBC Members. Hear from industry experts and built environment sector veterans on how our buildings must adapt to a post-COVID era and glean insights on a greener and healthier future.

Wednesday, 10 Feb 2021: Transforming the Built Environment with Healthy Real Estate

10:00AM - 11:30AM (SGT)

Anchored by SGBC Member UL Environment, this webinar investigates how healthy buildings can transform real estate. The session will share insights on how to effectively measure health & wellbeing as a building performance attribute and the need to develop strategies that combine both policy and prescribed measures to address wellness.

Tuesday, 23 Feb 2021: Putting Health at the Core of the New Normal

2:00PM - 4:00PM (SGT)

The second webinar on 23 February 2021 features SGBC Board Member and global IAQ expert A/Prof Tham Kwok Wai, who has been recognised for his work on uncovering how viruses spread in an indoor setting and the measures that can be taken to mitigate the impact. With IAQ a crucial anchor of health and wellbeing, A/Prof Tham will discuss science-based environmental intervention measures that can help to arrest the transmission of pathogens indoors.

Complementing science with design, Mr Nicholas Merrow from the Society of Interior Designers Singapore (SIDS) will provide perspectives from the angle of interior space organisation and utilisation, followed by a roundup of real estate industry trends and interest on health & wellbeing matters by Mr Mark Yeo from CBRE Pte Ltd.
