RE-IMAGINING THE FUTURE OF THE BE SECTOR

Are the common perceptions of the built environment sector as 'too traditional' and 'lacks innovation' fair? What do we need to do about it as part of the BE community? Join us in this IBEW to anticipate and re-imagine the future of the BE sector that is able to make a better pitch to the next generation, and be part of creating that very future together!

BE IN AWE:
SMART CITIES OF THE FUTURE

9 SEP 2021 (THU)
2.00PM – 3.30PM (SGT)

The smart city concept has been discussed for years. Despite technology advancement, smart cities' development is still at an infant stage in many places, and the definition of smart city is continually evolving. While we know that the potentials of smart cities cannot be ignored, how should we then move forward in the right direction to achieve smart and sustainable cities? Hear from our panel of leading professionals from multiple disciplines as they share their knowledge and experience in the building and operating of future smart cities.
