

BUILT ENVIRONMENT AND PROPERTY PROSPECTS SEMINAR 2022

26 January 2022 • 9.30am to 5.00pm
Hybrid Format – Physical & Virtual Live Streaming

Strengthening and Sustaining Resilience for Growth

With the gradual resumption of business and leisure activities globally, economic activities are gradually returning to normal. Recently, MTI also updated Singapore GDP growth forecast for 2021 to about 7%. What is the outlook and opportunities for local and regional built environment, construction, and property sectors in 2022? Join us at the seminar to hear from the experts and plan for the much-awaited recovery.

PROGRAMME HIGHLIGHTS

- Economic Outlook 2022: Opportunities and Challenges
- Regional Rebuilding in Infrastructure Development
- Singapore Construction Prospects 2022
- Construction Cost Trends 2022: Reinventing Contract Strategy
- Plenary Discussion
- Singapore Real Estate Investment Market Outlook and Prospects
- Office Market Outlook and Prospects
- Retail Market Outlook and Prospects
- Residential Market Outlook and Prospects
- Panel Discussion

Programme subject to change without prior notice.*

Opening Address

MR DESMOND LEE

*Minister for National Development;
Minister in-charge of Social Services Integration,
Ministry of Social and Family
Development*

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER