A RESILIENT AND SUSTAINABLE ENERGY FUTURE 25 – 28 OCTOBER 2022

The 15th edition of the Singapore International Energy Week \(SIEW\) is happening in three weeks' time!

Happening this 25 – 28 October, SIEW will discuss how the global energy community can ensure secure, diverse, and resilient energy supply even as the world undergoes an energy transition. Don't miss this opportunity to benefit from our line-up of energy thought leaders with the exchange of views and perspectives at the various conferences and events during SIEW.

SINGAPORE ENERGY SUMMIT

Session 1 – Securing a Resilient and Sustainable Energy Future

This session will address how regional governments and stakeholders can work together to ensure a sustainable and resilient energy future. Speakers will also share their perspectives on the action needed to accelerate the low carbon energy transition while ensuring green and inclusive growth

- How can governments and industry stakeholders work together more effectively to co-create solutions for a more resilient and sustainable energy future?
- What are key steps that can help overcome hurdles in the energy transition to achieve energy security goals?
- How do we ensure policies and business models support inclusive growth towards a sustainable energy future?

Keynote

Session 2 – Accelerating Low Carbon Solutions

This session will address how governments and corporates can catalyse the development of supply chains for low-carbon solutions such as hydrogen and carbon capture, utilisation and storage (CCUS). Speakers will also share their perspectives on the role that innovation plays in improving technology and driving down costs of low-carbon solutions.

- What are the latest low carbon innovation and technologies that can reshape the energy landscape?
- What are the opportunities for emerging technologies in pushing the low carbon energy transition?
- How can we encourage innovation that actively improves and drives down the cost of low carbon solutions?

Keynote

Session 3 – Mobilising Greener Financing for Energy Infrastructure

This session will address how greater sustainable private financing and growing corporate net zero commitments can come together to achieve low carbon goals earlier. Speakers will share their perspectives on facilitating green financing for energy infrastructure developments, including how these investments would lead to more renewable energy projects and grid renewals, and interconnections in the region.

- What is the state of play for sustainable financing and what gaps needs to be closed?
- How can we effectively facilitate green financing to ensure sustainable and resilient development of energy infrastructure?
- What opportunities lie in Asia for green financing to support the low carbon energy transition?

About SIEW

The Singapore International Energy Week \(SIEW\) is an annual platform for energy professionals, policymakers and commentators to discuss and share best practices and solutions within the global energy space. The 15th edition of SIEW will be held from the 25-28 October in Singapore.

About the Energy Market Authority

The Energy Market Authority (EMA) is a statutory board under the Ministry of Trade and Industry. Our main goals are to ensure a reliable and secure energy supply, promote effective competition in the energy market and develop a dynamic energy sector in Singapore. Through our work, the EMA seeks to forge a progressive energy landscape for sustained growth. Please visit www.ema.gov.sg for more information.
