SGBC Webinar: Futureproofing Workplaces

In the aftermath of the pandemic, companies across Singapore and the Asia Pacific region are grappling with how to encourage employees back to the office. Monday to Friday in the office is no longer the default as hybrid working becomes the norm. Health and safety is also high on the agenda for employees and greater focus is placed on how environmentally conscious employers operate their buildings.

At this SGBC Webinar, hear from SGBC Members Infogrid and WSP Consultancy as they explore what employees think about and want from their workplace, as well as share practical steps organisations can take to optimise and futureproof their offices to ensure that it is a work environment employees are proud to be a part of.
