Engineering towards Net Zero

26 - 28 November 2023
 at Millennium Hilton Bangkok Hotel

Dear international colleagues and friends in construction-related industry across Asia Pacific and around the world, this year we have been blessed with a comeback we deserve, to literally and technically join hands again in working together towards the rebirth of the construction and engineering industry. This time we envision net zero as we grow. From academics to Practitioners and professionals, service providers and suppliers, to employers and regulators, among all stakeholders in every business and organization, as well as individuals, the COVID-19 pandemic has hindered us for several years from proceeding the normal walks of life as we know of.

Its consequences affect our FIDIC Asia Pacific Conference organization as much, causing repeated delays and cancellations over the passing years. Not until now did we find the pleasure to announce the coming of FIDIC Asia Pacific Conference 2023 to take place at Millennium Hilton Hotel in Bangkok, Thailand, during November 26-28, 2023, under the theme "Engineering Towards Net Zero." It is high time we were to gather and catch up among colleagues and friends on the auspicious night of Loy Krathong floating candles Festival at the riverfront of the spectacular Chao Phraya River in Bangkok. The Festival means to many South East Asian countries; we have longed for the upcoming FIDIC Asia Pacific Conference 2023 as much this year. The conference venue and the city also look to welcome participants' families and friends to enjoy their vibrant holiday during the conference. They are sure to enjoy quality time with the participants and even on their own for next door to the hotel is situated Iconsiam, a largest shopping complex in Asia and iconic landmark of Bangkok with superb river view and fulfilled pastime for locals and visitors

With the economic rebound this year in generally all walks of life, FIDIC Asia Pacific Conference 2023 under the theme "Engineering Towards Net Zero" is looking forward to welcoming your participation in the sessions and visit to Bangkok, during November 26-28 this year. Come enjoy meeting, for success, and sharing, for happiness.
