

The Singapore Green Building Council (SGBC) presents the SGBC Green Real Estate Trends Conference 2024, a comprehensive one-day exploration of the latest developments in the evolving landscape of sustainability within the built environment.

Join us as we unpack the latest design approaches and decarbonisation efforts unfolding in and impacting the real estate sector in 2024 and beyond. Industry leaders and experts will shed light on critical trends that will influence the design, construction, and operation of buildings, including unlocking sustainable finance, the business case for adaptive reuse, understanding and addressing Scope 3 emissions, as well as insights into the key construction materials of concrete, steel and timber.
