Previous conferences have explored the various aspects of how we ensure we deliver the above.

It is fitting that 2025 is hosted in Cape Town, as the G20 presidency is handed over to South Africa. With a theme for the year around fostering solidarity, equality and sustainable development, there could be no better time or place for the infrastructure sector to meet and show its excellence, integrity and significance in shaping a better tomorrow for all. This event is attended by the wider infrastructure industry including clients, governments, politicians, contractors, lawyers, financiers and architects to name but a few.
