Moving Beyond AI Experimentation

AI is reshaping the built environment and the professionals who apply it well are pulling ahead.

At IBEW Conference 2026, see how industry leaders are putting AI to work across design, engineering and project delivery, while managing the governance and accountability challenges that come with adoption.

The tools are ready. The projects are live. The gap between those who talk about AI and those who deliver with it is widening.

Which side are you on?
