WHY THIS MATTERS

Quiet Risks Build Where You Aren't Looking

Strong business performance often depends on factors that are not immediately visible, such as workforce capabilities, leadership readiness, employee retention, and workplace experience. HCDT helps organisations identify these hidden risks and opportunities, providing leaders with clear, evidence-based insights to focus their efforts where they matter most.

Using HCDT, YHI identified opportunities to strengthen its new hire experience. They transformed their traditional in-person orientation into an AI-enabled, self-paced e-orientation module that employees can complete before Day 1 using an AI-based learning platform.

The result: Their new hires become productive faster, and freed up time for HR and learning teams can focus on higher-value work.

CASE IN POINT

YHI's Digital Onboarding Leap

Hear directly from YHI on how they rethought their new hire experience, using an AI-enabled learning platform. Their traditional one-hour, in-person orientation is now a self-paced e-orientation module, delivered on mobile and desktop, and completed before Day 1.

The results speak for themselves:

New hires start work
immediately

Productivity rises from day one

L&D teams freed for higher-impact work

⚡ Join us in our upcoming workshop to hear from YHI leaders on how they used HCDT insights to identify priorities and drive meaningful change. This is a story you'll want to hear.
