Advancing the Built Environment Through Leadership and Innovation

As a Platinum Sponsor of IBEW 2026, Woh Hup welcomes you to the Woh Hup Theatre, where industry leaders, policymakers and built environment professionals come together to exchange perspectives on the trends, challenges and opportunities shaping the sector.

With a legacy spanning nearly a century, Woh Hup is one of Singapore's most established construction and civil engineering specialists.

Renowned for delivering some of the nation's landmark developments, the company continues to champion excellence, innovation and sustainability while contributing to the transformation of the built environment.

Over three days, join thought-provoking discussions on some of the industry's most pressing priorities, including:

Artificial Intelligence and Digital Transformation: Exploring how AI and emerging technologies are reshaping the built environment ecosystem.

Talent and Workforce Development: Perspectives on building future-ready teams and attracting the next generation of industry talent.

Sustainability and Resilience: Advancing sustainable urban development while addressing evolving environmental and societal needs.

Together, these conversations provide a platform for leaders across the sector to share insights, exchange ideas and inspire progress.

Join Us at the Woh Hup Theatre

Gain fresh perspectives from industry leaders, connect with peers across the built environment ecosystem, and be part of meaningful conversations on the future of our cities, communities and infrastructure.
