Dear partners,

I am pleased to share with you URA's Annual Report 2023/2024.

This year marks URA's Golden Jubilee. Over the past half a century, we have worked with stakeholders in stewarding our limited land resources to realise our founding fathers' vision of transforming Singapore from a mudflat into a modern metropolis and more.

Our mission to make Singapore a great city to live, work and play continues today as we embark on an extensive public engagement for the Draft Master Plan 2025. Building on the shared conversations in the Long-Term Plan Review, we are working together with Singaporeans from all walks of life to translate long-term land use strategies into plans that will guide development on the ground. Together, we can make Singapore a more liveable, inclusive and endearing home where many generations to come can achieve their aspirations and thrive.

We thank you for your support and look forward to many more fruitful collaborations to come.
